FRIENDS OF THE FREIGHT

When we reflect on the past year, it’s with considerable pride that we did it all we could to keep our audience, artists, staff and volunteers as safe as possible while continuing to highlight, introduce, and present the very best in traditional music from around the world.

It’s only because of the generosity of that community - people like you - that we can share the highs and weather the lows that come with a gradual return to regular business.

We’re here for everyone because of our supporters’ generosity. Thanks to that sustained support, we’ve been able to build on pandemic-inspired innovation like live-streaming some of our shows and classes so that they can be enjoyed from a safe distance, or by those who want to be part of the Freight from out of town.

This year, we deepened our relationship with the Berkeley Unified School District, bringing our Hip-Hop is Folk Music symposium to students and teachers; the Golden State of Song curriculum into fourth-grade classrooms to illuminate California history; and contribute our own program to the free Summer Arts Immersion program of music, visual art, dance, and theater for Berkeley school kids.

Once again, our dear friend Ed Littlefield has offered an extraordinary gift of $300,000 to inspire others to contribute before the end of this year. Please consider joining him and many others with a gift before December 31 to sustain and strengthen all we do.

You’re welcome to make a new gift or renew your membership - check out the new benefits offered this year! - at thefreight.org. And if you giving through a donor-advised fund, please act now!
